Stars and Stripes looking for heroes

Stars and Stripes is looking for profiles for their Stripes' Heroes edition, 2010. In addition to recognizing servicemembers who have been awarded medals, this year they are looking for the heroes at home during a humanitarian crisis, in the wake of a death or in response to a military community in need. This is designed for people who made a difference with their efforts, like creating a new school policy to help children deal with repeat deployments, testifying before Congress on behalf of military families, growing a personal blog on deployment issues into a national-sounding board for military families. For more information, e-mail tkweave@yahoo.com.

Flag project

The flag project consists of two parts. The first part is letting flag owners know that their flag can be dry-cleaned free of charge by taking it to any of the 16 locations of "The Cleaners." The second part is the proper disposal of worn-out U.S. flags. The VVA Chapter is working hand in hand with the VFW Post 812 in McKelligan Canyon (Northeast) and the Boy Scouts. We have pick-up boxes located at the post Commissary lobby on Fort Bliss, at the PX-operated cleaners near the new PX, at the Rod & Gun Club and the Golf Course Pro Shop. Boxes are also located at all 16 of "The Cleaners" as well as the 82nd Airborne Hall on Fort Blvd., the American Legion on Vulcan Street, and at the VFW Post 812. For more information, call 751-2535.
